

Happy December! The weather has gotten cold and our world has seemingly gone crazy...

We are doing everything that we can to make sure that our store's environment is safe and welcoming to our customers. We are wiping things down between customers as well as disinfecting as much as we possibly can. Please try not to touch things that you are not planning on buying when shopping with us or with any other store. This stupid virus spreads very easily.

We are still open for business in our store! Assuming that we do not end up catching Covid-19 and have to quarantine ourselves, we will not be closing down regardless of what the city or state decides. Worst case scenario for us is that we will go down to curbside services only but we will only do that if we are forced to by our government.

Our grooming services have become insanely popular! So much so that our first appointments for full grooms are in the middle of March as it stands right now (we can put you onto our cancellation list if you would like).

We are still able to get nail trims scheduled within about 3 weeks. If your dog is in need of grooming services, please make sure to call sooner rather than later!

With the cold weather finally arriving in earnest, keep in mind that your pets are likely seeing a little less activity compared to warmer times. If that is the case for your pet, it may be a good idea to reduce the portion size of their meals by 10% in order to make sure that they are not gaining any unnecessary weight over the winter. Issues with weight can lead to many other ailments that can seriously shorten the lives of our furry family members so making sure that their weight remains stable can be very beneficial!

Merry Christmas and stay safe out there!!
