PET DANGERS DURING THE HOLIDAY SEASON

Between all of the delicious food and cookies, being with family friends, and of course spoiling your pet's with all of the best gifts – we live for the holiday's! Sadly, it can also be dangerous for our pets if the right precautions are not taken. Being aware of the hidden dangers that lurk in everything from holiday food and decorations to family visits is essential for all pet owners to safeguard their furred, feathered and scaled family members.
