

IMPORTANT!

Our chicks arrive day old from reputable and certified hatcheries. They are healthy and easy to raise. Since we cannot control the environment that chicks are exposed to once they leave our store, we cannot be responsible for any fatality once they leave our premises.

We do not issue refunds for any such loss.

Chicks must be kept at a temperature of 93° the first week. A 250W heat lamp bulb will supply the required heat.

The temperature should be lowered each week by 5° until week 6, they can be left at room temperature.

Don't Forget:

- Starter Feed
- Feeder & Waterer
- Bedding
- Containment
- Brooder Lamp
- 250W Heat Bulb

HELPFUL TIPS

Broilers and Meat Birds have high nutrition requirements and should be kept on Chick Start-N-Grow or Meat Bird Maker for the entire growing period. Give Vitamins and electrolytes for three days every other week. This will help prevent leg weakness and maintain overall health.

Ducklings require UNMEDICATED feed. Keep fresh feed and water available at all times. Litter should be maintained 3-4 inches deep and kept dry.
